Old Charley had spoken as though the Dead Lantern was a wonderful ranch—feed enough for two thousand head—forty thousand dollars a year. But suppose he was wrong, suppose, even, that the ranch could be made to earn only a quarter of that—the very amount she had just agreed to take for her entire interest. What would she and David do when that money was gone? Then David would have to go to work. His inheritance to go to work. His inheritance picked it up and going to the door ranch, a wholesome life out of doors, a good education, and a reasonable number of opportunities afterward.

Electric Customers Please Take Notice

We have in the past given some of our customers ample consideration and time to allow them to pay their electric service bills. To some extent we have deviated from our regular rule of disconnecting customers who have not paid their bills on the morning of the 18th. By extending these courtesies we have accumulated a great many delinquent accounts on our books which of course retards the payments of numerous obligations we have to meet daily, such as taxes, insurance, salaries, etc. Our customers have taken advantage of our leniency to such an extent that we will be COMPELLED TO DISCONNECT ALL CUSTOMERS whose bills are not paid on the morning of SEPTEM-BER 18th and on the 18th of each month following, unless the delinquent party or parties call by our office and explain why they have not paid their bills.

We trust that you will cooperate with us in regard to this matter.
